spportunity to develop and own the richest mines of the country.

"These entrymen," said Senator Frazier, "were mere dummies."

Mr. Birch entered a vigorous denial. He said there was no understanding with them and that the law had been fully compiled with. Dummy entrymen are very unpopular with officials in Western States, where these instrumentalities have been utilized in putting the timber tracts in the hands of the lumber interests. In some cases government officials have been very zealous, and when not interfered with from Washington, entries of this character have been set aside and patents refused.

When asked by Mr. Beveridge if this control of the transportation situation did not give the syndicate a tremendous advantage in the purchase of mines it did not already own. Mr.
Birch replied naively that the government would prevent that.
"How?" asked Senator Beveridge.
"By governing and controlling rates," blandly responded the managing director of the syndicate, smiling as he made the reply.

Now Being Contested.

The title to the Cunningham group is now being contested before the Interior Department. It figures as one of the sallent features of the Glavis charges. There are thirty-three claims in this group, and the testimony today developed the fact that if the government issued a patent to these coal land claims the syndicate immediately would exercise its option and take possession of the coal lands.

BALLINGER AS ATTORNEY

Evidence to Show That He Was Interested in Land Cases.

Washington, D. C., February 19.—
The case for the prosecution in the Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry has practically closed. When the committee adjourned this afternoon until Friday next. Mr. Brandels stated that there was some corroborative evidence yet to be produced, and that Gifford Pinchot probably would want to make a statement before he could announce that his case was ended. Mr. Pinchot was to have taken the stand this afternoon, but could not be found during the luncheon recess. ton, D. C., February 15.

MAKE THE START

While nearly everyone is convinced of the value of saving as a protection for the future, or as a means to secure the capital needed when business opportunity presents itself, too many postpone the preliminary step—the starting of a savinger account.

But let the start be made and then the saving becomes a good habit and the habit grows as the savings accumulate and great is the later satisfaction. A start is not difficult—a savings account may be begun here with as little as $1.00, on which we allow 3 per cent, compound interest.
